

Les Amis values

What they mean
for our Employees

What they mean for our Residents

To be given a "voice" and the opportunity to make decisions and share ideas through employee survey's, supervisions and appraisals.

To make, assist and benefit from the right choices.

To be given the opportunity to develop and progress through the Organisation from learning new skills.

We aim to empower those we support by helping them to gain new and necessary skills to participate in everyday life.

To be mindful at all times of how you support residents in the community.

To encourage those we support to participate and contribute to their community as a valued members of society, by having jobs, attending clubs and activities.

To engage and develop positive relationships with colleagues and people you support.

To engage and develop positive relationships with their support workers, their housemates and the community.

Respect the Community and those around you.

To be respected and to respect others.
